Promise - Rte. 6 Relining

Robert Tierney, new commissioner of Massachusetts' Public Works Department, said on Friday morning at Mattapoisett Town Hall that his department will reline Route 6 back to 4 lanes regardless of the approval of the federal authorities. Mr. Tierney who had earlier driven the road with Senator William MacLean, Jr. said there is no solid evidence that returning the road to 4 lanes will reduce fatal accidents and that 11 foot lanes "are short of anyone's standards". He said, however, that the legislation for the 4 lanes, introduced into the Massachusetts legislature by Senator MacLean, had passed both house and senate and that he would like to wait for the Governor to sign it into law before sending his crews out to reline the highway. According to his crew chief the highway can be relined in two working days.

The Friday morning meeting followed a Thursday evening public meeting organized by Anthony J. Pelson of Barstow Street. Mr. Pelson had played golf with David Sheridan of Marion just hours before the fatal accident that claimed the life of Joan Sheridan, his wife. Pelson was so shaken by the fatality, the third in little more than a year, that he, Charles Duponte and a few friends made a series of phone calls to draw people out to the Thursday meeting. More than 140 people filled the Town Hall conference room and overflowed into the hall.

Mr. Pelson outlined the continued and persistent efforts of Mattapoisett and Marion Selectmen to get the lining changed and asked for a citizen back-up to start a pressure that would result in changing the road back to 4 lanes. Police Chief James Moran told the group that when the road had been 4 lanes there had not been a motor vehicle fatality in at least 10 years. He said he definitely felt that the relining was one factor in the fatalities - that because cars are closer they have less time to react.

Lieutenant James Santos said that he had investigated all 3 fatal accidents and, while he could not honestly say that the Route 6 relining was to blame, he was convinced that the relining was a contributing factor.

Selectman Frank Suzan told the group that the Board of Selectmen had been very frustrated but even so had continued a constant barrage of letters to state and federal officials and even the President. He said that in spite of the frustration the Selectmen had continued to fight and the turnout at the meeting made them feel that they now had great support.

Mr. Suzan said that it had been a fatal mistake to agree to the state taking federal funds to resurface the road. The inconsistency of the move, he said, was that the D.P.W.'s contention that Fairhaven and Wareham are justified in having 4 lanes in the same road width because they both have a heavier traffic density. (Wareham had been resurfaced with Massachusetts funds in order to keep the 4 eleven foot wide lanes.)

Selectman James Huntoon asked, "Why haven't they (Mass. DPW) painted the lines permanently if they really are convinced that the road is safer (as a 2 lane road)."

Mrs. Blanche Perry said that she had avoided a head-on collision 2 different times by traveling in the breakdown lane.

Safety Officer Stan Ennis of the Mattapoisett Police Department rose to strongly protest. He pleaded, "Do respect the law as it stands now." He said mopeds joggers and bicyclists are using that breakdown lane and cars traveling in that lane in defiance of the law put them all in danger. He said, "Do yourselves a favor and respect the law as posted now."

On Tuesday Selectmen had ordered Chief James Moran to put the force out on Route 6 and crack down on enforcement of the speed law and on the law that prohibits travel in the breakdown lane. Chief Moran reported that of Thursday night 130 citations had been written.

On Friday morning, after Commissioner Tierney had promised the relining, he stated that the state stands to lose approximately $2 million in future federal highway funds unless the federal authorities change their minds on Route 6. Mr. Pelson urged those in attendance to mount a letter writing campaign to Senator Kennedy and Senator Tsongas to give them ammunition to use to change the federal authorities' minds. Selectmen had months ago asked Senator Kennedy to meet with them and had been promised a meeting "as soon as his schedule permits". This opportunity has never come about apparently.

Stephen Ford, Congressman Gerry Studds' representative, was present and said the Congressman had attempted to work on behalf of the town without success. He said, "We have as high a degree of frustration as you have."

Mr. Pelson urged that the people present write individual letters to the United States Senators to show support and attempt to save the federal highway funds.

A general showing of thanks was expressed by all to the efforts of Senator MacLean who from the first has taken on the effort to change the road on behalf of the Select-

Selectmen's Meeting

SELECTMEN REQUEST SURVEILLANCE

Police Chief James Moran was requested by the Board of Selectmen to increase police surveillance of Route 6, to use the radar to check speeders and to issue citations for drivers who travel in the breakdown lanes. This crackdown is the direct result of the June 2nd fatality on the highway. The Selectmen hope that a slowing of traffic and rigid enforcement of the present law will increase the safety factor of the state road.

SIGN REVALUATION CONTRACT

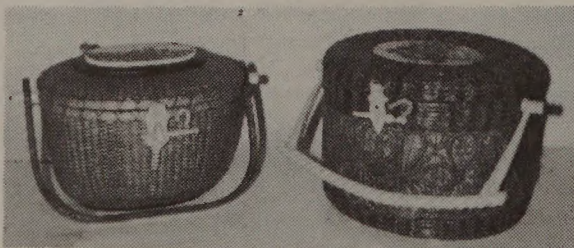

Selectmen and the Board of Assessors signed the contract for revaluation of the town which will start immediately. The contract with McGee & McGann is for the amount of $107,400. Other costs connected with the work bring the total to $130,000 for this initial phase.

Dollars for Scholars

SURPASSES GOAL

The Town Dollars for Scholars Program organized last January, established a primary goal of awarding $5,000 in scholarships to spring to graduating seniors
Mattapoisett and Rochester.

The first week of June Dollars for Scholars surpassed that goal by awarding scholarships totalling $15,100.
The graduates were graduates of Tabor Academy,
Stang High School, Old Colony Regional-Technical High School, and Rochester Regional High School.

For Academy, James Joaquin, who will attend Brown University, was a recipient.

On Sunday, May 29th, President of the Board of Trustees John Lafreniere presented Scholarships to two Stang graduates: Christina Rezendes will attend Salve Regina and Danielle Bessette will attend Saint Bonaventure. Olive Harris, Chairman of the Awards Committee, presented awards

The recipients will receive half of the scholarship in August and the remainder upon successful completion of the first semester in college. Through the support of the three communities Dollars for Scholars was able to triple its original awards goal. This year's success has reinforced the commitment of the Board of Trustees to aid area students in their pursuit of post-secondary education. Next year the Board plans to expand scholarship eligibility to include students already in college or those returning to college after an absence. With continued community support this plan will become a reality. The Board wishes to thank the tri-town area for caring about the dreams of our young people.

Letter to The Editor

June 19 we honor FATHER'S DAY - a day to remember Dad whether he is with you or no longer in this world. When I was young, he was the proud breadwinner of the family - and our mothers busy in the home, filled with the exquisite aroma of homemade bread, pies and "from the start" heavy meals to greet the children as they returned from school and he from work.

One of my fondest memories is how we all ran to the door to greet Dad with a hug and kiss upon his return after a hard day's work building homes around Milton and Marion which are still monuments to his skill. Maybe it was because of my love for him and for St. Joseph that carpenters have always been held in my highest esteem. Men in banks or law offices don't leave such tangible evidence behind.

There was no television, or even radio most of that time but we did have silent, black and white movies. That made BOOKS an ESSENTIAL PART OF OUR LIVES. Most parents didn't have college degrees either - but had a healthy respect for music so the piano, violin, cello, etc. were taught in many homes. They are today in many homes, but is it part of the children's fun to gather as a family to play and sing together as it was then?

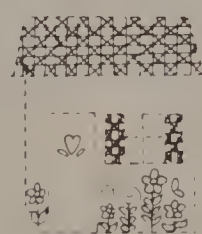

Dad and Mom, through their budgeting, provided us all with an excellent education - even though four of us were in higher educational (college and secretarial school) places, with few scholarships then, the Big Depression, two big Wars, even a hurricane; but our parents didn't fill us with despair - rather their courage and providing us with a sound love for God and Country gave us an enduring peace of mind which helped us become sound citizens. What a blessing a good father is, living closely in love with a good mother! We pray for them all. A Happy Day, Fathers!

The main focus of the studies was to develop as many different resources as possible, contacting scientists and professional groups involved in their topics of study.

Bonnie Lewis had 31 resources and personal letters from Bill Rossiter of Whales Unlimited, and Phil Clapham of the Cetacean Resarch Program in Provincetown. Kelly Landry received a manual on Pandas from Peking, written in Chinese. Tom Ferreira heard from the Bohorok Orangutan Rehabilitation Center in Indonesia. Lisa Antulonis received a Koala Bear poster from Australia.

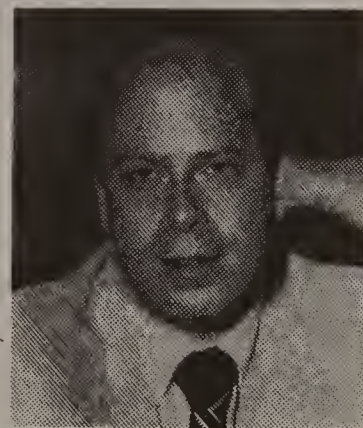

Dr. Charles (Stormy) May, Director of the Cetacean Research Program on the Cape, met the youngsters on May 20th and asked those doing cetacean studies to share their final products with him.

Students involved were: Lisa Antulonis, Koala Bears; Amy Blasdale, Sea Otters; Tara Duff, Scrimshaw; Jamie Evangelho, Bottle Nosed Dolphins; Tom Ferreira, Orangutans; Tom Gartland, Killer Whales; Kelly Landry, Giant Pandas; Bonnie Lewis, Sperm Whales; Jennifer Tichon, Tigers; Mary Lamoureux, Bald Eagles.

ALLSTAR GAME

It's that time of year when the Cape-way Softball League comes to its half-way point of the 1983 season.

The second annual Rodney C. Morris-Mitchell C. Miller Allstar game will be played this Sunday, June 19th, at 11:00 a.m. at Washburn Field in Marion. The game will be directed by Bruce Mathieson and the Mattapoissett 3 sports organization in cooperation with the Capeway Softball League. Each team gets to vote for 2 infielders, 2 outfielders, 1 pitcher and 1 catcher. Depending on last year's standings first place team managers will manage the Allstar team and the other 2 managers coach the bases. Also, depending on last year's standings, last place teams in each league get to pick a designated hitter.

The Capeway Softball All-Stars are divided into 2 leagues: Morris League, team members from Brad's, Mattapoissett Inn and Costa's Restaurant; the Miller League, team members from Root's, Mahoney's, Mattapoissett 3.

Last year's winner of the Allstar trophy will present it to the Morris family.

Mathieson, as assistant commissioner, has lined up fields for season play, issued the league's first rules and ground rules booklet, tried to renovate for safer purposes the Center School ball field, and conducted a successful Allstar game. He said he had no really rock solid reason why he has chosen this decision. He will continue as president of the Mattapoisett 3 sports organization and will conduct the Allstar game if the league permits.

He is awaiting an invitation to try out for the University of New Hampshire hockey team.

Mathieson would like to thank the people who helped him in making the Capeway Softball League a successful league.

ASHLEY PHOTOGRAPHS AT WHALING MUSEUM

An exhibition of photographs by Clifford W. Ashley opened last week at the New Bedford Whaling Museum, 18 Johnny Cake Hill. The exhibit continues through Labor Day.

The 59 photographs in the exhibition were selected from the several hundred taken in 1904 by Ashley aboard the whaling bark Sunbeam. The entire collection of Ashley's negatives, now in the Museum archives, constitutes the most complete known pictorial record of a sperm whaling voyage.

This exhibit records the fitting out of Sunbeam in New Bedford, her transatlantic passage with the capture of three whales, and her arrival at the Cape Verdean Islands.

BURGESS MUSEUM ATTRACTIONS

The Thornton W. Burgess Museum, Water Street, Sandwich Village, invites the public to stop by and enjoy the new "Tussie-Mussie" Herb Garden which has recently been planted on the grounds. The fifty-foot circular garden displays many fragrant and colorful herb plants. Framed by brick, the garden layout suggests the shape of a nosegay - or "tussie-mussie" as they were called in Victorian times.

Available in the Museum gift room is the new Lavender cup plate, the first in a series of plates to be issued depicting four different classifications of herbs - fragrant, culinary, medicinal and herbs used in dyeing. These exquisite herb plates are decorative, useful, informative and collectible.

Another new addition to the Burgess Museum gift room this season is a collection of plush, stuffed animals from the

Choosing Toys For A Family Auto Trip

Keeping youngsters amused on a vacation trip can seem more like child's play if you keep some suggestions in mind.

Marilyn Sloan, PhD, toy expert and director of product development at the Long Beach, California-based toy company, Toys to Grow On, offers these helpful hints for choosing toys for car travel.

- Cassette tapes of songs or stories can be played on the car stereo system or on the children's individual cassette players. A variety of nursery rhymes, fairy tales and children's classic stories are all available for this convenient form of storytelling. Music tapes are great for family sing-alongs or soothing listening.

- Board games specially designed for travel with compact playing boards and safe, magnetic playing pieces. For variety, look for a set that includes several different games, such as car bingo or magnetic checkers and Parcheesi.

- Infant travel toys should be colorful—to hold the baby's interest—and soft edged. Traditional wooden toys (rattles, rings and animal shapes) come in draw-string bags that are handy for travel.

- Hand-held learning activities. Math flash cards or word cards with definitions on the back keep children busy quizzing each other... and learning as they roll along.

These suggestions can make for happier, fun-filled trips for children as well as parents. All these helpful tips plus more specific suggestions are available in a new booklet, "Tips on Choosing Toys For a Car Trip." For a free copy, write Toys to Grow On, Dept. A, 2695 E. Dominguez St., P.O. Box 17, Long Beach, Calif. 90801.
